Registration Day for Canada

Saturday, June 22nd

The solemn duty of registering on Saturday, June 22nd, should be well understood by all our readers. Registration is necessary for every British subject or alien residing within our district who is 16 years old or over.

Strangers who are in town on that day must also register. A very severe penalty will be imposed on anyone who fails to comply with the regulations.

By applying to any of the following deputy registrars the necessary papers may be secured and filled out in advance. The registrars will be pleased to see the deputy registrars, without fail, on the 22nd inst.: Mr. Owen Williams, Mrs. Jessie G. Watt, Mrs. D. McEwan, Mrs. A. H. Tovell, Mrs. Rhoda Clark. In regard to the country districts every school house will be a registration booth, in charge of a deputy and his assistant. The only exception will be where the school has already been consolidated with Claresholm. The farmers and their families resident in such consolidated districts will be required to come to Claresholm to sign up.

One further point must be understood. In case of a boy or girl who has not yet reached the age of 16 by the 22nd of June, the parents must sign thirty days after their 16th birthday apply to their local postmaster for the necessary papers, and have such papers properly signed. This rule also applies to sailors and soldiers who shall return to Claresholm after registration.

Please read carefully the Government advertisement on page 2 of this issue. Another adt dealing with the same subject will appear in our next issue.

Allies Defending Very

Heart of France

There is no element of surprise in removal of the German offensive. The sector chosen, between Noyon and Mont Didier, was anticipated in the review of experts recently called. The principal objective is the famous town of Compiègne, between which and Noyon the Germans had been steadily wooded; but the ultimate objective is obviously Paris. The French, however, covering the capital form a solid front from Mont Didier to Tresenes, on the Ourcq, with an extension thence to the Marne at Essoone. Inside this salient the main military center is the Chateau of Compiègne.

All this fortified position is the last remaining bulwark of the capital. It consists of detached masses of rising ground, lying across the head of the Oise valley and containing the great road and railway toward Paris. The line is vital, and in defending it the Allies are defending the very heart of France.

There is little space for retreat, and the French and British armies have to bear the weight of battle, but both are still unbroken, and every confidence is held that Foch's counterblow will, perhaps, as a French writer says, make Paris a gigantic Verdun. The Germans, however, are not to be trifled with. In any case it is expected that the fighting will be protracted, for the battle may be extended north or south by other desperate German attacks.

Fruit Wholesale Men Hard Hit By Recent Embargo

If the embargo on fruits, as recently announced by the order-in-council, is carried thru, it will mean a serious loss to the prairie provinces, who are dependent for a majority of their fruit supplies from across the line. Fruits from the States will cost about $1.50 per crate and will bear into the prairie provinces at $4, and all other fruit will go up in proportion. In this case they will, of course, become prohibitive to many people. The Calgary wholesale fruit merchants have wired to Ottawa pointing out the hardship this would mean to the people of the prairie provinces. It is known, however, that C. is not able to supply the demand for fruit, and the prairies are dependent on the States for a good deal of it. Some of the wholesalers expect that such an order will put them out of business, for there will be very little business at the prices mentioned.

OFFENSIVE ONLY WAY

TO WIN BATTLES

In Important Article in Weekly Publication, General Foch Gives Reasons for Present Methods Being Followed.

That battles can be won in the end only by the army which takes the offensive is the significant declaration made by Gen. Foch, commander of the Allies, in an article published in the weekly journal, The Field, in which he discussed the problem of the soldier and the way to victory. "Modern warfare to arrive at its end and to impose its will on the enemy," says Gen. Foch, "recognizes only one means—destruction of the enemy's organized forces." He believes that the only way to win is to attack, to inflict his destruction by battle, which brings about the overthrow of the adversary, organizes his command, destroys his discipline and nullifies his units as far as their fighting power is concerned.

"From this it is an obvious corollary that offensive, whether started at the beginning of an action or whether continued after a reverse, can give results and, in consequence, must always be adopted at the finish."

"To maintain our position is not synonymous with being victorious, and even prepare for a defeat. If we remain where we are and do not pass to the offensive to fix the lines of attack to guard against the plan of the enemy, to prevent him from carrying out the same maneuver, we must undertake to carry on and sustain numerous combats, each with determined aim."

"But since there remains no doubt that decisive attack is the very key-stone, a battle, all other actions must not be purely defensive. A purely defensive battle, even well-conducted, does not result in a victory and a vanquished. It is simply that which must be begun over again."

"From this it is an obvious corollary that offensive, whether started at the beginning of an action or whether continued after a reverse, can give results and, in consequence, must always be adopted at the finish."

"Reserves must be husbanded with the utmost prudence, so that the bulk of the troops available can be engaged, considered, or banished and employed with force in the measure in which they will prepare, facilitate and guarantee development of a decisive attack characterized by its means, it surprises, its speed, and for which, in consequence, it is essential that there shall be no lack of men, horses, and equipment of troops of manoeuvre. The reserve, that is to say, the prepared belligerent, is organized and kept carefully instructed to execute the single act of battle from which results are expected namely, the decisive attack."

"Reserves must be husbanded with the utmost prudence, so that the bulk of the troops available can be engaged, considered, or banished and employed with force in the measure in which they will prepare, facilitate and guarantee development of a decisive attack characterized by its means, it surprises, its speed, and for which, in consequence, it is essential that there shall be no lack of men, horses, and equipment of troops of manoeuvre. The reserve, that is to say, the prepared belligerent, is organized and kept carefully instructed to execute the single act of battle from which results are expected namely, the decisive attack."

"In this, our supreme aim, we must not be deceived by appearances. Although the ordinary fails when applied by feeble hands and when accompanied by contempt for the main problem, history and reason show us that in battle where there is a single argument which is worth while, namely, decisive attack, which is alone capable of assuring the desired result—the overthrow of the adversary."

Five Mile Notes

Mrs. M. Friderickson is able to sit up now after two weeks illness.

The Five Mile Red Cross unit will meet at the home of Mrs. G. C. Martson, on Wednesday, June 19th. Capt. Gibbie urges all to attend as Red Cross work is badly needed at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutberg and Mr. and Mrs. Gibbie were guests of Oliver Mooley's on Sunday last.

Mr. W. Lewis made a business trip to Cowley last Tuesday.

We wonder when the Five Mile School will be able to get a teacher.

S. L. please do not leave your car sitting by the roadside without lights.

In a strange neighborhood, as some one is likely to smash into it.

T. P. Mosley has been living on the farm the last two weeks, until their expected help arrives.

Mr. E. Martson, of Monarch, has been visiting a few days at Henry Vista.

Mrs. E. Curran is expected home soon from her visit to the States.

J. Smedstad erected a new windmill on his farm this week.

Mrs. T. P. Gibbie made a trip to Calgary on Wednesday to visit her son Wilfred.

German Treatment of Belgians

After hearing Major Korby at the I.O.O.F. Hall on Monday afternoon, when he told us some of the things he knew about the war, and particularly the treatment accorded Belgian women by their German captors, one can hardly conceive why the Germans did not bring some of these Belgian women and children across to Canada and the States. If this could be accomplished hundreds of lives might be saved. It is pitiful to hear of the large numbers of little children that have starved to death, many hundreds of these being found on the roadside. A German soldier has been captured for wages. Could not some of these people be brought over on the return trip? On this side they could be introduced to another brand of culture and treated like human beings. Every life saved is so much to the good.

According to the Major, the Germans are treating the Belgians harshly in order to get them out of the way. They will not allow the Belgian Relief Committee to distribute food among them for the reason above stated.

These of the Belgians who have escaped the Huns and are flying before them have no place to go. Many of them French speaking Belgians are lost and have little or nothing to give these poor fugitives. Many soldiers, when possible, share their rations with them.

One thing is certain, if things are allowed to go on as they are at present, the Belgian population will cease to exist as they will be exterminated.

In a way, the Turkish massacre of the Armenians is more merciful than the German treatment of the Belgians; they at least put their victims out of misery by killing them outright, whereas the Huns are killing by the slow process of starvation. Of course the "systems" the Turkish is more humane.

Thieves at Work

That a gang of sneak thieves are at work in this province seems evident from the clippings from our exchange:

Last week was a bad one for the editor of this paper. On Thursday last some sneak thefts entered the office and removed $50 cash from the till. Later in the week Sam Lee, our laundryman, reported that while doing his wash in the back yard he found some coins removed and scattered. The parcel of course was cut and as a result we hadn't had a change this week—High River Times.

The store of the Carmangay Pharmacy was entered last Thursday night, the safe drilled and $55 taken. The change in the cash register was also taken. It is believed two men turned the trick. They broke into a garage in the Lethbridge the night before, and took away a motor vehicle, and these were recovered this morning in the pharmacy. It is thought the men escaped by taking the night train—Carmangay Sun.

Last Thursday night the premises of Drumheller Meat Market were broken into from the rear and the cash register broken into by unknown thieves who helped themselves to about ten dollars. The police say they will all there have to be in the investigation at the time. It is understood the police have some important clues to work upon and we may expect development in the near future—Drumheller Mail.

Seven-hundred thousand New York Irishmen have organized to crush Sinn Feinism and prove to the Allies that Ireland is not disloyal to the war cause. This is the most heartening news concerning Ireland that has come for some time.

Sydney Ur, while trying to board a moving freight train at Sibbald, Alta., fell between the car and had both legs cut off. He died half an hour later.

What a Community League Can Accomplish

(Registered in America with the Copyright Office)

It is but to state the known, the admitted and the obvious to say that interests of the people who comprise any community are mutual interests.

What, apparently, does not seem to be so well realized, altho' quite as obvious—is the fact that the most effective and permanent union of the interests—more particularly essential—is the closer cooperation of the agricultural and commercial communities.

There are a few industrial plants on this continent which never have any strikes among their employees, and where the said employees are held in high esteem by management and nail for the promotion of the best interests of the company that holds them their pay-checks. Why? Is it not simply because of a wise, broad recognition on the part of the employers of the fact that the well-being and contentment of their men mean success and profit to the factors?

The same principle is being taken into a co-operative partnership with the firm. They work under the most satisfactory conditions and participate in the success of the business. They reciprocate whole heartedly. It is mutually common sense arrangement that produces the most favorable results.

And it should be the same in the community. Outhouses should be thrown aside; passive interest should be stimulated into vigorous action; people should get acquainted with their neighbours and newcomers; loyalty to the mutual interests involved should be the motto of every member of the organization. Mutual cooperation would take the place of kicking and grumbling. Altogether we require the true community spirit—a spirit that can surmount every real and imaginary difficulty in every worth while district in country.

Do accomplish these delightful things—and they have been accomplished in some localities—community organization is necessary. Call this organization a Community League, a Commercial Club, a Board of Trade—or whatever you will—it matters little so long as the proper spirit is helmed and the proper objective pursued.

In this community organization no class of the people must be left out—for there is but one class—the rent community has room for, and that is the class that will work for the well-being of the community and is loyal to the whole.

Let us say that a certain centre has a population of 3000. That is but the real population of the town. In reality the population is more like 10,000, for it is not the man, who farms a hundred acres five miles from the post office just as much a citizen as the man whose garden plot is five blocks from the post office?

In the community sense, he certainly is.

Widen out your community organization, then. Too many of them are confined—misérably so. Rush out to the fields that are hitherto untouched, and you will find a response that will be surprisingly agreeable and effective.

Your community spirit must not be lazy—it must work to the results. You now find citizens from a radius of five, eight or ten miles, can do more for your town than the handful of "closers" could ever hope to do for them in clauses. Take them into confidence. Get their co-operation and advise town planning and children's play grounds, on the levelling up of the district, on the removal of sports and literary clubs on piano and organ, on the birthing building, on maintaining the civic centre as a place that's sweet, clean and attractive. Let them help in laying new rugs for the hospital. Invite them to ride in your automobiles and you ride in theirs. Get them to join the various organizations for roads, and by all means let them feel that the full force of their power, that the community spirit, is behind them. And picture shows are their institutions. It will be surprising how naturally, then they will realize that the town is a unit, and that it is a business place. Yes; let us, by all means, organize community organizations with the broad community spirit.

Brilliantly giving the Canadian Food Board a hard time, the Board is unable to understand just why they have seen fit to prohibit certain fruits from entering Canada from the United States. The prairies are nearly always short on fruit, particularly berries, but this year there will be less than usual. What good purpose the Food Board seeks to serve by this silly order is beyond comprehension.

There is some cause for dissatisfaction among Canadian soldiers over the quality of the Canadian Food provided by the Canadian Government. A letter received at this office from a young Canadian, who has been in England for some time, states that he had just received a package of letters many of which were dated as far back as the 1st of February. That would suggest that some of the letters were nearly four months in getting across to England. What goes need to England? The Regt. is getting nothing. He has secured Madame Petrova's screen productions. These are all classed as super features, being very much in the vein of movie craft. The Regt. of which he is a member will be shown at the Rex Monday and Tuesday, June 21 and 22, and one more two weeks thereafter.

In talking to automobile dealers to know that the new war tax will not have to be paid at once, Word comes from Ottawa that each dealer may obtain a warehouse license by paying a nominal sum. Dealers so licensed need not pay the special tax on their goods at this time, but only the regular sales tax.

Rev. W. C. MacNiven occupied his pulpit in the Methodist Church last Sunday. At the morning service he gave a report of the doings of the Alberta Conference. As an indication of the growing scarcity of men, he explained that in former years he was never able to get a sufficient number of young men to come forward. This year there were none. Of protestants for the ministry there were only three this year, one being a returned veteran, and another applicant was one who could not pass the medical board; the third man will enter.

As a result of these conditions, Dr. MacNiven suggested to the General Conference asking that women be admitted to all the Courts of the Church on the same basis as men. If the General Conference accepts this suggestion we see lady lay preachers in the offing coming in ever increasing numbers till they dominate the whole institution. But this does not mean that the church will be any weaker than it is at present—or stronger either for that matter—but much more contentious.

Registration day is on Saturday, June 22nd.

Stevely Stunts

(From the Advertiser)
Mr. Clegg's little stable, Doris, attained a very curious fracture of the arm and dislocation of the elbow by falling from a horse.

The veterinarian of the Stevely Trading Co. has just finished wiring the house of Joe Mackenbush, preparatory to putting in a Delco lighting plant. When finished this will be quite an improvement over the old order of things.

Ed Knowles, of Clareholm, (horse), had his lower lip bitten completely off by a stallion, making a very ugly lacerated wound.

Wm. Carbine has one boy in MacKenbush, who was operated on for cleft palate. His little brother also took pneumonia (it is infectious somewhat) subsequently. He is improving. We hope Mr. Carbine's troubles are now over for a space.

J. R. McCuaig lost a valuable Belgian mare on Tuesday, on the 44 range, near Willow Creek bridge, west of town. It appears the horse had waded into a slough to drink, and got stuck-in the mud.

Canada Needs More Canadians

A correspondent in the Calgary Herald makes a good point when he says:

"The other day I picked up a paper published in the city called the "Alberta Non Partisan". On the cover I read this motto: 'If the farmers are to be government controlled, the government should be farmer controlled.'"

My candid opinion of that is that it is the worst piece of rot I or anyone else could set eyes upon.

It would be a good idea if we can't do away with this country once and for all if the community think that they are going to be controlled by a government, they must control that government.

What would happen if we changed the word farmer to undertaker, say, and talked about a combination of undertakers controlling the government?

It would be a joke, though the undertakers would be controlled by a government as well as the farmers.

That is just the fault with the farmers (some of them) and the labor unions. They consider and rightly so, that they are not rightly treated by the men with whom they contract their labor, but if we let the undertakers have control in the government, then they would press and browbeat the men who have a little more than they have as they themselves have never been treated.

If the writers of that motto had looked at the census of Canada they would see that the rural population is far greater than the urban.

National prohibition for the benefit of children, and the world, has all but eliminated the necessity of such country in the United States sending a quota of 20 percent of the medical men into army service, and the withdrawal of doctors generally from associations after the war with German scientist until Germany had purged itself of the last vestiges of its military influence. At Local Theatres

The Sign Invisible

Moving picture lovers who remember "The Barrier" with pleasure—which means pretty well every one who has seen it—will be glad to know

"The Sign Invisible" coming to the Rev. Theatres, is the work of the same director, Edgar Lewis, and that the leading parts are played by the same actors who had so much to do with the popularity of Mr. Lewis' former success. Mitchell Lewis—"Big

Victor" and his son, Victor

Sundstrom, Edward Hosenauer,

Juline Scott, etc. are all in "The Barrier." Heida Nova, is also in the cast. The story deals with the adventures of Mr. Robert Winston, celebrated surgeon and God fearing man who loses faith in Providence because his "surgically correct" operations have not been successful, and the worse of all—his own mother, who despite his protests insists that he and no other shall perform a capital operation upon her. Her death drives him to drink, he sinks so low that friends induce him to visit the Canadian Northwest for change of scene and possible regeneration. The story is told with a certain pathos,

but it is a very good story.

The man's entry into the simple lives of a remote Canadian trading post, are said to have been excellently realized

by both director and actors, the result being a photoplay of unusual power and pathos. It is a "First National" attraction.

A BETTER FARM GATE

That costs less than home-made gates

BETTER BECAUSE

—They always hang plumb and straight. They CAN'T SAG even one quarter of an inch. —They are made out of shape. They are flexible but without inflexibility. —They weigh about one-half as much as ordinary all-wood gates but are twice as strong, wire or gas pipe. Large gates are made out of shape. —They hang on loose hinges. Look these over, and get prices. We will figure your bill of material on anything you contemplate building.
